Alex Thomson wins Yachtsman of the Year award and Pro Sailor of the Year award!

Alex Thomson has been awarded Yachtsman of the Year by the Yachting Journalists Association and also Pro Sailor of the Year by Yachts and Yachting Magazine, both in recognition of his success in 2016/17 Vendee Globe where he finished in second place and broke a new world record.

The boat is currently undergoing a refit in Gosport, ahead of a busy year on the water where the team will sail her to the USA for sponsor activation ahead of preparing for the Route du Rhum in St Malo in November. This is the first time Alex will compete in the single-handed transatlantic race to Guadeloupe.

Alex is pictured above with the inspiring Montel Fagan-Jordan of Greig City Academy who won Young Sailor of the Year for his offshore campaign in the Fastnet and sailing achievements on board Scaramouche.

Alex Thomson Racing have also announced a new partnership with Opihr Gin, the world's fastest-growing premium gin as the gin brand aims to inspire consumers worldwide to embrace the Spirit of Adventure.

Speaking of the new partnership Alex said: 'I am really excited to partner with Opihr Gin as there is a strong connection of adventure between Opihr, inspired by the Ancient Spice Route, and my sport of extreme offshore sailing – both of which journey through the oceans. I am looking forward to working with Opihr, a successful and ambitious brand and together, we want to encourage people across the world to challenge themselves and embrace adventure!'
